

THE HERALD.

JOHN F. HARRIS, Editor.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 3, 1883.

There will not be a single Green-backer in the next Legislature of Kentucky, nor a married one, either.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE thinks he will be elected Speaker of the next Lower House of Congress. We trust he may be.

The grand jury of Muhlenberg county found indictments against thirteen persons for illegal voting. The Echo says that there were more than one hundred illegal votes cast for Jones for Representative.

R. Y. THOMAS, editor of the Muhlenberg Echo, will contest the seat of Mr. Jones as Representative from Muhlenberg county, and if half reported to be true he should succeed in the contest.

Hon. J. C. S. BLACKBURN has determined not to be a candidate for Speaker, but announces that he is a candidate to succeed Hon. J. S. Williams as U. S. Senator.

The prospects for the election of Judge Hoadly, Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, brighten with each coming day, and his election is almost a certainty. Should he be chosen by a large majority, it might be a stepping stone for him to the Presidential chair next year.

While en route to the Spring Lick festival last Sunday, we met Prof. T. M. Mourning of the Hartford College. We found the professor to be quite a pleasant gentleman. He comes to Hartford almost a stranger, but well recommended. The faculty secured for his college is the very best, and those wanting to attend school could not do better. Hartford is one of the most pleasant towns in the State, and the school second to none. Board can be obtained in good families at from $2.25 to $2.50 per week. Address the Professor at Hartford, Ky., for further information. Litchfield Sentinel.

The next Legislature will stand as follows: Senate, Democratic, 33; Republican, 5; House, Democratic, 56; Republican, 11; Independent, 3. Clinton and Cumberland, Garrard, Greenup, Laurel and Rockcastle, Monroe and Metcalfe, Muhlenberg, Pulaski, Lewis, Knox and Whitley, Crittendon and Livingston, and the second Louisville district are represented by Republicans, and Christian, Graves and Pendleton by Independents. There will probably be three contests, viz.: Warlick, Democratic, vs. King, Republican, in Greenup; Smith, Ind., vs. Madden, Dem., Hancock and Thomas, Dem., vs. Jones, Rep., in Muhlenberg; Brasher and Lykes, the Independents elected in Christian and Graves counties will vote with the Democrats. It is not known how Bradford or Pendleton will vote.

In this issue will be found a clipping from the Litchfield Sentinel giving an account of the acquittal of "Critt" Bratcher and Bird Skiggs by the Grayson Circuit court. They were indicted for murdering Frank Stone, and at a former trial were found guilty of manslaughter, and their punishment fixed at ten years confinement in the penitentiary. After that trial they employed Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of this place, to defend them. A new trial was granted, and last week, when the case was called, he played the former conviction for manslaughter in bar of a trial for murder, which the Court sustained and the defendants were tried for manslaughter. So ably were they defended that they were promptly acquitted. Mr. Walker's management of the case is pronounced by those who witnessed it as the ablest ever made in the Grayson Circuit court. There is not another criminal lawyer in this State to day than Hon. E. Dudley Walker, and he has but few equals in that line.

The Louisville Courier-Journal's Lebanon correspondent says that early in the canvass Governor J. Proctor Knott induced Hon. R. A. Hartun to withdraw from the race for Representative, and promised in the event of his (Knott's) success he would make him (Hartun) Secretary of State, but has gone back on his promise and appointed Hon. J. A. McKenzie, and in consequence of his bad faith all the prominent Democrats of Lebanon have refused to take part in the inauguration. The Courier-Journal further says that Knott had arranged for a special car for himself and friends to Louisville, but had slipped off and come up by himself. If he treated Hartun as stated by the correspondent, it is a dastardly, cowardly mean act, (unless Hartun's subsequent conduct justified it), and an act unworthy a great and good man.

The trial of Crit Bratcher and Bird Skiggs, charged with the murder of Frank Stone, consumed three days of last week; the jury on Saturday night brought in a verdict of "not guilty." The attorneys on both sides made strong arguments and good speeches. Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Hartford, was engaged for the defense, and made a masterly effort, pronounced the most ingenious argument ever heard in our court-room. He spoke for two and a half hours, and in a pointed, telling species of rhetoric, removed all seriousness from the case, blew the life from the rock and converted it into a mountain, and made the "reasonable doubt" appear so clear that the glowing eloquence, and strong appeals of Hon. W. H. Haynes, (now circuit Attorney), could not remove from the jury the impression Judge Walker's speech had made, although Mr. Haynes is as fine and strong a prosecutor as is known to our State. Mr. Walker is possessed of brilliant legal attainments, particularly eminent in the criminal practice, and stands the peer of any jurist in Western Kentucky. Litchfield News.

Prof. M. H. Rhoads
This gentleman has recently accepted a position in Hartford College, and as he is unknown to most of our people, we give publication to the following letter showing how he stands as a man and an educator where best known.

GREENVILLE, KY., Aug. 16, 1883.
Editor Herald:
I have been informed that the trustees of Hartford College have secured the services of Prof. M. H. Rhoads, late of West Kentucky College, for the ensuing collegiate year. Prof. Rhoads has had several years experience in the classroom, is a duly educated gentleman, a qualified and competent instructor, and parents having children to educate cannot do better than to entrust them to the tutelage of that gentleman. Hartford College has reason to congratulate itself if all its professors are the equals of Prof. Rhoads.
Yours truly,
HOMER Y. THOMAS, JR.,
Editor Muhlenberg Echo.

Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice, having had, in his hands, the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 119 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y.

Rev. James Stevens Sick.
Editor Herald:
Our old friend and neighbor, Rev. James Stevens, has been quite low for several months past and for the last ten days his friends have been anxious about him. We think today, that we can say of a truth, that there is a better prospect for his recovery, yet it will require a long time and good nursing and attention, which his devoted wife will be sure to give him as she has always done.
Dr. W. J. BERRY.

Beds Basket.
Editor Herald:
Our hearts were made sad again on Thursday, August 30th, Malinda, the wife of W. F. Stevens, left friends on this side and went over to the other shore to join the loved ones there. Grieve not for her, for she had a thorough ticket to the Heavenly city.

Our protracted meeting closed last Tuesday with about twenty-two conversions and six very earnest penitents at the altar of prayer. The attendance during the meeting was unusually large, supposed to average 500 a night; the behavior was extra good; there was nothing to mar the peace or disturb the peace except one of your beloved keepers from Hartford was out with some of his sample whisky, but he that ever so wrong, they did have the charity and kindness to leave their bottle in Rev. Joseph A. Bennett's wagon that sat just in front of the church.

I stated last week that some persons were stealing watermelons; now I wish to know who they are, call on Achilles Bennett, he caught them last. (Who are they, Mr. Bennett, Eh?)
Dr. Hoover, being sick and nearly broken down, has gone to his father's to rest awhile.
Dr. Howard is preparing to move.
Stock buyers are making the dust fly along the road nearly all the time.
Late corn is suffering from the dry weather.
Mr. Moreland, the champion watermelon grower, has up to this time delivered 21 wagon loads of the delicious fruit, after having half of his crop destroyed by the heavy rains.
Dr. Foster is cutting a large lot of saw logs. Also David Chapman and T. H. Baird and Felix Barnett and Walter Hedrick, all for the Evansville market. They report the white oak full of worms.

Silas Shown is preparing to turn a brick kiln.
Lee Chinn is quite sick.
Apple-paring at Jesse Hudson's last night.
Owen caught a cow Thursday.
More next time. SPIKE NAIL.

Slaty Creek

Editor Herald:
Messrs. Levi Wilson and John South are building a stone wall around the grave of the late Judge A. P. Montague at this place.
G. W. Ferguson sold to Dr. J. S. Coleman ninety head of sheep for $250. Clearing about 50 cents on the head. This shows that Dade county can live with Davless.
Jas. A. Fulkerson, our clever cabinet maker has invented a hay press with the screen to mark on top. I think it far superior to the old one with the screen at the bottom. And hay rakers will do well to examine it thoroughly and be convinced that it is the grandest invention of the age.

RELIGIOUS.
Rev. Judson S. Taylor will preach here Sunday.
Rev. J. S. McDonald Sunday week and Saturday before.
Dr. J. S. Coleman will preach the funeral of Stephen Taylor the fifth Sunday in September.

PERSONAL.
Miss Mollie Haskins is visiting relatives in Beaver Dam this week.
Miss Ada Coleman is visiting friends and relatives in Sutton.
Messrs. Robert and Lee Barnes, of Davless county, are visiting their father, D. A. Barnes, Esq., of this place.

Prof. S. P. Bender was visiting friends and relatives on the creek.
Mr. Clarence Houston visited his mother last week at Livermore.
Eddie Johnson was kicked by a horse, last week, and seriously injured, but I am glad to learn that he is recovering very fast.
DAVIS.

Haynesville Happenings.

Editor Herald:
September 1st, 1883.
The dry weather which prevails at present is causing considerable complaint among the farmers.
Some of the tobacco is being cut.
The corn crop is looking fine.
Our community is made to mourn the loss of one of her oldest and most respected citizens, Mr. Louis Owen, who died on the night of the 28th ult. Mr. Owen has been lingering for some three months, but bore his afflictions with that fortitude that characterize those who have lived pious and upright lives. His life was one worthy of imitation, and while we deeply regret his loss as a citizen and Christian, we feel that his future existence will be one unknown to afflictions and filled with joy and happiness everlastingly.
The public school will begin here on next Monday, the 3d, under the efficient management of Miss Ettie Willes, and it is hoped that all the patrons will avail themselves of the opportunity of educating their children and patronize the coming session.

Mr. T. S. Jett is the wildest man in town. It is a boy, and he was out before light this morning notifying his neighbors of the fact.
Our correspondent, "Cub Pipe," from this place is expecting to leave us soon to attend college.

Also Mr. Millard Owen will leave for Logan county to attend school.

More anon. CHALLENGE.

Beaver Dam Notes.
Editor Herald:
The weather continues dry and the dust is becoming almost unbearable.

The tobacco crop will be very much shortened in consequence of the protracted drought.
The corn crop will also fall far below previous calculations.

Farmers are debarred entirely from breaking land for wheat, which will necessarily throw a great portion of that crop in corn and tobacco land. Trade is dull at present.

The miners all along the line are on a strike for higher wages.
Notwithstanding this depression, the patent man abundance in profession, and the people have no lack of opportunities to secure such as they "must stand in need of."

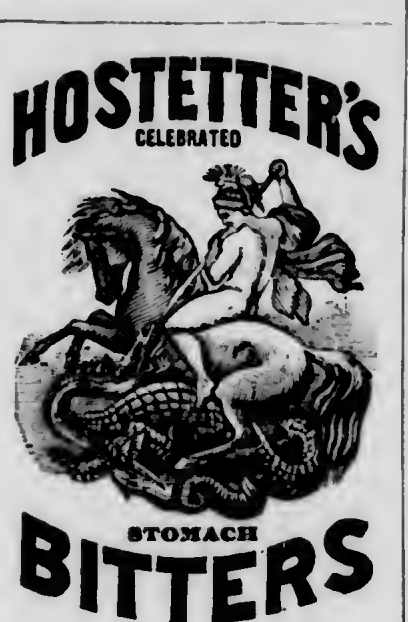

The stock men are active and paying liberal prices. One would be led to think that the surrounding country had been entirely robbed of sheep, judging from the large flocks that have been shipped from this place.
It is a very gratifying sign of improvement to see the increased interest in stock raising, and in the growth of grass and clover. We predict a notable improvement in this section of the country in the next decade which will be the result of the mining interests and the improved method of farming. Farmers are beginning to realize the importance of fertilizing, and are not only utilizing the home resources, but are buying commercial fertilizers. The bone dust and superphosphates used by farmers gave good satisfaction, especially in the wheat crop.

Quite a number from Morgantown and Winchester went from this place a few days ago.
Charles M. Taylor, from Liberty, went into Hartford on yesterday to attend College.
The school at this place opens to day under the direction of Prof. D. M. Hucker, assisted by his wife, Mrs. Nannie Hucker.
The school opens to day at Godden under the control of Miss Laura Mink. The Liberty district have secured the services of Miss Alberta Murray, from Pleasant Ridge.

The Union District have employed Miss Sarah Taylor, of the Hickory neighborhood.
These young ladies are all eminently worthy and competent, and should receive the hearty patronage, and co-operation of the patrons and trustees.
Mrs. Ella Miller, widow of the late Joseph Miller, near this place, returned from an extended visit to friends in Connecticut on Saturday last.
Mrs. John P. Barrett made a call visit at this place yesterday.
Mr. Sylvester Bir, of New Albany, Ind., paid Beaver Dam a visit last week.
Miss Waltrip, from Beesh Grove, Meigs county, paid a visit to the family of Mr. John McGraw last week.
No other news. RURAL.
